California Dreamin'

ABC denies those reports out of California last week that the network might form a news team to report on print media coverage of TV. According to an ABC representative here, the unit in question is just the network's new investigative reporting team, and one of the subjects it might cover is the print media . . . ABC News boss Roone Arledge was here last week to introduce his new vice president, Sander Vanocur, to the D.C. bureau forces and to deliver a pep talk . . . Meanwhile, ABC's "Good Morning, America" announced the appointment of Vanocur in its "People" section Friday, and Joan Lunden pronounced it "VAN-o-cur" rather than "Van-O-cur." You live and learn . . .